Dear Mr Taylor

I am writing to confirm that the Office of the Lord Chief Justice received your most recent correspondence on 22 March 2016.

The content of your letter has once again been noted. Nevertheless, I can only reiterate the fact that the Lord Chief Justice cannot intervene in or comment upon individual cases except those that come before him through the process of the courts.

I reiterate once more that should you wish to pursue this you should send your correspondence to the Judicial Appointments and Conduct Ombudsman. Their contact address is:-

As this office is not able to assist you with this matter there is nothing further I can add to my previous letters, we will not acknowledge or respond to any further correspondence sent by you concerning this matter.

I am sorry that this is not the answer you are looking for and that I cannot be of more help to you.

Sincerely,

Pamela Gillies
Executive Assistant to the Lord Chief Justice
